“ I moved to the Bloomfield school after the consolidation of the three high schools. Sandi was one of my first real and lasting friends. Funny, smart and genuine she was a treasure to all who knew her. Like most of us, following graduation, we lose touch with one another and what our lives became. Every 5 years we had our reunion and had some few moments to "catch up" but nearly enough. I was so saddened to learn of her death and in reading the tributes I realize she will continue to live for all us through our very positive memories of her influence on our lives. Our ranks have been thinned by one more and there be, all of us at some point in the future, but for now we remember Sandi and our memories of her. Vaya con Dios, Sandi.

“ Sandi will be dearly missed by our family. She was such a funny, breezy, passionate woman who cared for people and animals. Sandi always wrote happy, newsy letters to our mother. A fond memory is chatting with her and the other ladies who worked at P.S. Notions in Bloomfield - warm, fun girl talk! It comforts me to know that Sandi is in heaven taking care of everyone, including animals. We send our sympathy to Max and the family.

“ To say that God placed Sandi in my life right at the moment I needed her most would be an understatement. Taking me under her wing, when I was learning to be an loweagan. Showing me Gods grace and love. As I followed the Lords calling on my life. She then turned into an amazing friend, a sister in Christ. My morning weekly breakfast pal. Her, Jane, Allyce and I as well as anyone else that wanted to join, to share family stories and the weekly gossip. She will forever hold a place in my heart. For the way she made me feel so special and the courage and strength she always gave me for the days that felt to hard to get thru. Thank you Max and John for sharing your amazing wife and Mother with the rest of the world
