“ So sorry to hear this, when we moved to Raleigh in 91 Jim was in the same apartment complex across the street from office. It was always a pleasure walking that short distance with Jim, he was always so positive and reassuring about moving to Raleigh. Then there was a dirt track race in Orange County that we'll never forget. What great guy, he will be missed. Our Love and Prayers to Family.

“ I did not know Jim well, but when we did interact at John Deere, he was always helpful, kind and happy. He made our office environment more enjoyable. Sending my condolences.

“ Jim was a cornerstone of the order fulfilment arena with his career at John Deere. But beyond his deep knowledge and skill was a true spirit of humility and teamwork. He was an example of how to be passionate about doing things really well without being antagonistic. He was well respected for what he accomplished, as well as how he accomplished it.

The same attributes were present at work and outside of work ... including his retirement years. I enjoyed seeing him at car shows and track events. And his calm demeanor and friendly attitude was always present. Such a great guy that will be missed. But his example is still resident in all of us who knew him.

I will continue to pray for Marge and Brian and David as they adjust to life on earth without him.

“ I remember when I first got to Rakeigh and went to work with Jim how kind and supportive he was. Later in career we worked on a project together and I saw how brilliant and how compassionate he was about Deere and data in no particular order. A great boss and a better man. He will be missed.

“ Rest in peace Jim Harris! You will be missed in the John Deere community. Your work in Order Fulfillment brought us together. Whenever we met I came away informed and confident in the information shared. You had a tough job and worked it to maximize both John Deere and dealer productivity. A job well done and appreciated by those around you.

Jim was a wonderful person and a well respected boss for me in Order Fulfillment. He saw something in me that I didn't, which encouraged me to go well beyond my expectations with John Deere. He was also a friend to me and my husband Jim, the connection was cars. I enjoyed several car rallies and races with him and Marge. He was an exceptional photographer. Jim will be truly missed, but not forgotten. I will carry memories of him throughout my lifetime.

“ When I would join Greg Weekes at a track event, Jim & Marge would often be there. Jim always have his camera, taking pics of the event, and they were always good. He was a generous man, with a heart of gold. He'll be missed be all who knew him.

“ Jim Harris has been my valued friend for over 30 years. He was the manager of Order Fulfillment for our John Deere CCE division in 1991. In the early years he commonly spent 10+ hours at work, serving dealers seeking to deliver mowing products to customers. He was respected for his honesty and professionalism. Coworkers valued his knowledge and judgement. He always made time to listen, coach and support us. He was devoted to his family Marge, David and Brian. His retirement years allowed him time to enjoy motor sports, vintage cars and travel.

Jim lived 78 years, significantly longer than males in his family in the past. Yet that was too short for those of us who knew him. We celebrate Jim, and mourn with his family. The world needs more like Jim. Farewell good friend. John Carson.
