“ I first got to know Kevin and his younger brother, Jeff, when Christine Bailey and I worked with the junior high age children at the Drakesville Methodist Church in the early 1970's. He was a sweet kid then and I'm sure stayed that way the rest of his life. It's seems he had a good life, was talented and ambitious and I'm sorry that his family now has to go on without him but I'm sure not without precious memories of him. May God draw near to strengthen, comfort and bring them peace.
