“ My parents and 3 other families did everything together. The Bollman’s, Fultz’s and the Armstrog’s. They cut wood, worked cattle and hogs, put up hay and celebrated birthdays and anniversaries together by having supper and playing cards together. Larry was one of the older boys that I would hang around if I had the chance. He would help me with 4-H projects and drive me on rare occasion to somewhere I needed to be. One of the people I would’ve adopted as an older brother if I would’ve had the chance. I’ll never forget his help and big smile.
