“ The guys from PA extend our condolences to any family members of Norman. Norman would allow us to hunt his land. All of us had taken some nice bucks off his property. He kept his property very neat. He was a steward of the land. We would bring him apples from PA, and he, in turn, would give us some pears that he grew. We talked often about his walnut trees too. During hunting season we could find Norman outside cutting wood, even on the coldest days. We enjoyed talking with him and listening to his stories. We will certainly miss Norman and the opportunity to hunt his property. What a really nice man! Rest in peace, Norman. Jeff, George, and Scott (The PA Gang)
