“ My first memory of Vicki was in the third grade. I had just moved to a different part of the county and because we were going to be consolidated the next fall, our family went to "town" school instead of country school to finish out that grade. I can still see where she was sitting in the room, twirling her blonde pony tail with her fingers. In junior high, I used to go to her house some if we were meeting the bus to go to a ballgame. I was a cheerleader and honestly don't remember if she was a cheerleader then too, or played basketball. Although we didn't necessarily run in the same circles in high school, there was NO ONE in our class that was as friendly and sweet to everyone. Vicki had a personality that couldn't be beat. When we were seniors, she used to ride around with me after school if I didn't have to work - that is until she got married and moved away. Through the years, I've considered Vicki to be one of my dearest friends. She never failed to give me a hug and with her big smile that reached from her mouth to her eyes, would ask about me and my life. I'm so grateful she was at our 50th class reunion last August. She will be missed by all who knew her. My sincere prayers to Tera, Anna and Ronnie. All my love...Kathy Young
